SQUABBLE ABOUT THE PUR-CHASE OF SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

Thirteen Teachers For the High School Employed-Chief Devine Notifies the Board It Must Put In Fire Escapes-Eleven Applications For the Position of Superintendent of Schools-Miscellaneous Business

The most important matter disposed of at the meeting of the board of education last evening was the letting of a contract to the Salt Lake Building and Manufac-

SQUABBLE ABOUT SUPPLIES. The Tribune Job Printing company and The Trouble Grows Out of the Acci-

plies for the cuming year presented a pro-test to the board against the action taken by the committee on school supplies in regard to the bids. In the protest it is stated that it was required by the board that all bids should be in before noon on Thesary, June 21, and that the bids must be strictly in accordance with the samples furnished by the board. The protestants then no on to wiste that they believe be strictly in accordance with the samples furnished by the board. The prefectants then go on to state that they believe that the committee did not follow those requirements, but allowed a bid to come in the next day after the time set and after the other hids had been opened, and further allowed the parties making said hid to submit their own samples, which in every case were different from those required by the board.

The belated bid was made by the Moser-Burgess Paper company, of Chicago, and was, excepting in a few items, accepted by the committee. The bellion further says that the committee held that some of the samples submitted by the Moser-Burgess. Faper company were superior to some of the samples furnished by the moord, however that may be, and whether the committee was competing to judge or not, the petitioners de not profess to know, but they do allege that in one large tem especially the 90,600 sheets of manilla paper, the sample was inferior. The petitioners claim that in the latter of the action. The petitioners claim that in the action of the board in accepting the Moser-Burgess Paper company's bid was outling and unjust to the other bidders, and the petitioners protest against the allowing of the bid in question and ask that the lowest bids at the time of opening the bids called for in the proposal be accepted.

A. W. Winberg, jr., was arrested yesterday morning on a warrant sworn out by E. R. Grow, charging him with threatening to kill Mary I. Grow. The offonse is alleged to have been committed Monday and the complaint states that it is feared defendant will carry into execution the threat he has made. Mr. Winberg had no difficulty in furnishing $500 bonds and will have a hearing this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The trouble appears to have grown out of the accidental shooting of a daughter of Mr. Winberg by Mrs. Grow, details of which were given in The Herald at the time, about a year aro. The wound eventually proved fatal. The fact that Mrs. Grow brings the charge of a threat to kill suggests that Mr. Winberg holds a bitter feeling against her, and does not regard the shooting of his daughter as altogether accidental. FILES AN OPINION IN CASE OF HIS VIEWS ON PHILIPPINE AN-NEXATION.

> Let Us Not Throw Doubt Upon Our National Good Faith and Honor"-Our Holy War.

In the course of his oration at Logan, Governor Wells said:

"The thoughtful American citizen on court was handed down a few days ago by Chief Justice Zane and Justice Miner in which the lower court, which found the issues for the defendant, was reversed, the supreme court opinion, holding that the pieces of land on which the defendant levied upon judgment and execution, were the homestead of the pialtiff in this action and not subject to execution.

Justice Barten dissents on the ground mainly that the dwelling house of the Kimbalis was situated on an entirety different parcel of land from either of those in dispute and that the home place has been owned by different persons for the last eight years and having been separated from the home place by conveyance, it was no longer a part of the homestead, because it is owned by a different person, and after partition and conveyance the disputed particle of the second parcel of land in dispute. Judge Barteh holds that Kimbali having made no sufficient showing that the land was used for family purposes, there was nothered.
